WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 9.

Mr. GOODHUE, of the committee appointed to take into consideration fundry memorials and petitions of the merchants, and citizens of the State of Rhode Island, and the memorial of Dr. Williamson in behalf of the citizens of North-Carolina, brought in a bill to suspend the operation of so much of the tonnage law, as subjects the people of those States to the alien tonnage duty.

Read the first time.

It was moved that that part of The President's late message, which refers to the troops now in the service of the United States, be referred to a special committee—which being agreed to, Messrs. Boudinot, Trumbull, and Burke, were appointed.

In committee of the whole on the Judiciary bill.

Mr. BOUDINOT in the chair.

Some progress was made in the discussion—alterations in several of the sections as to the places of holding the district courts took place—having proceeded as far as the tenth section, the committee rose.

A message was received from the Senate, returning several bills, viz. The bill for allowing compensations to The President and Vice President—The Senate insist on their amendment to this bill, and request a conference with the House upon the subject—having appointed managers on their part, Mr. King, Mr. Izard, and Mr. Morris. The bill for allowing compensations to the members and officers of the two Houses—the Senate concur in the proposal of the House for a conference on the subject of disagreement respecting this bill—and appointed conferees on their part.

The bill for establishing the salaries of the officers in the executive departments—the Senate recede from some of their amendments to this bill, and insist upon others.

The House proceeded to the consideration of the foregoing.

It was moved that conferees on the part of the House be appointed agreeable to the request of the Senate—which motion being agreed to, Mr. Baldwin, Mr. Livermore, and Mr. Goodhue, were appointed.

In the bill for establishing the salaries, the Senate insist on their amendment, to raise the salary of the Treasurer from 1600 to 2000 dollars. It was moved that the House recede from their disagreement. This was carried in the affirmative—to the Treasurer's salary is 2000 dollars.

The Senate insist on their amendment for striking off 500 dollars from the salary of the Governor of the Western Territory.

The House receded from their disagreement to this also. So the salary of the Governor of the Western Territory, to include the Superintendency of Indian affairs, is 2000 dollars.

The report of the committee on the letter from the Post Master General was read—and adopted by the House.

The motion laid on the table yesterday by Mr. Gerry, was taken up, and after a few observations referred to a select committee, consisting of Messrs. Stone, Parker, and Griffin.

The House then adjourned.

THURSDAY, SEPT. 10.

The enrolled bills for establishing the salaries of the executive officers, and to provide for the safe keeping of the acts, records, and great seal of the United States, having been examined by the committee, and reported correct, were signed by the Speaker.

Mr. BOUDINOT presented a petition from the inhabitants of the county of Essex, in New-Jersey, praying that Perth Amboy may be the place for holding the district courts in that State. Laid on the table.

The bill for suspending the operation of part of the tonnage act read a second time, and ordered to be engrossed for a third reading.

Mr. SHERMAN of the committee of conference reported that a conference with the committee of the Senate had taken place, upon the subject of discrimination in the pay of the two Houses, proposed as an amendment to the salary bill, and insisted on by the Senate. This report was in substance, That they had come to no precise agreement—that the Senate could not be induced to recede from their amendment—but by way of compromise, the committee on the part of the Senate proposed, that the compensation provided for by the present bill should be limited to seven years—the last of which the compensation of the Senate to be at 7 dollars—Or, they proposed that the House should pass a law providing for their own compensation, without including the Senate.

It was moved that the House should recede from their disagreement, and concur with the Senate in their amendment, with an amendment.

This was opposed by Mr. Jackson, Mr. White, Mr. Burke, Mr. Boudinot, Mr. Thatcher, and Mr. Tucker—and supported by Mr. Benson, Mr. Madison, Mr. Lee, Mr. Gerry, Mr. Fitzsimons, Mr. Lorraine, Mr. Ames, and Mr. Sherman.

Very little, that was new, occurred in the course of the observations made—and on the motion for the report of the committee's lying on the table, being lost, it was moved that the main question for concurring with the Senate be put, the Ayes and Noes were called, and are as follows:

AYES.

Messrs. Ames, Baldwin, Benson, Brown, Cadwallader, Clymer, Fitzsimons, Gale, Gerry, Griffin, Hartley, Huntington, Lorraine, Lee, Livermore, Madison, Moore, Muhlenberg, Scot, Sherman, Smith, (S. C.) Trumbull, Vining, Wynkoop. 24.

NOES.

Messrs. Bland, Boudinot, Burke, Carroll, Coles, Contee, Floyd, Foster, Gilman, Goodhue, Grout, Hathorn, Heister, Jackson, Matthews, Page, Parker, Partridge, Ransfeller, Schureman, Seney, Sylvester, Sinnickson, Smith, (M.) Stone, Sumpter, Thatcher, Tucker, White. 29.

The committee on the petition of the public creditors, and other citizens of Philadelphia, reported, that the petition deserved the attentive consideration of Congress; but as the present session was so short, and it was necessary to dispatch much important business now before Congress, it became impracticable to give the subject, this session, the attention which it merited. They therefore submitted a resolution to the following effect "That it highly concerns the honor and interest of the United States to make some early and effectual provision in favor of the public creditors of the Union, and that the House would early next session, take this subject into consideration."

This report was laid on the table.

Mr. BOUDINOT then moved, that a committee be appointed to bring in a bill to establish the compensations of the members and the officers of both houses, for one year.

It being suggested by the Speaker that it would be proper to delay this matter till the Senate had been informed of the vote of the House, the motion was laid on the table. Then the House adjourned.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER, 11.

The engrossed bill for suspending the operation of part of the Tonnage Act, was read the third time—the suspension to continue till the 15th of January next.

It was then passed to be enacted.

Mr. BURKE moved that the House should reconsider the vote of yesterday, not to recede from their disagreement to the amendment proposed by the Senate to the bill for allowing compensations to the Members and officers of both Houses.

Mr. MADISON supposing that the bill was lost by the vote of yesterday, queried whether it was in order to reconsider that vote; or whether such a vote could be laid to restore the bill. The affirmative of this enquiry, he conceived, involved many difficulties: It would extend to repealing the laws, as well as to reviving them without going through those previous formalities, which are required by the Constitution.

Mr. SHERMAN, Mr. GERRY, and Mr. LAURANCE, observed, that the bill could not be considered as lost, as the House had directed the Clerk to inform the Senate of what had taken place; the Senate being adjourned, their opinion could not be known. The bill and the vote were still in possession of the House; nor could there be a doubt that the law, if now completed by a concurrence in the amendment of the Senate, would not be as valid as any law that had been enacted.

It being doubted whether the motion was in order, the Speaker gave his opinion that it was strictly so; and appealing to the House, they confirmed his determination.

Mr. BURKE's motion for a reconsideration being put, and the ayes and noes called, they are as follow:

AYES.

Messrs. Ames, Baldwin, Benson, Boudinot, Brown, Burke, Cadwallader, Carroll, Clymer, Fitzsimons, Gale, Gerry, Griffin, Hartley, Huntington, Lorraine, Lee, Livermore, Madison, Moore, Muhlenberg, Page, Scott, Sherman, Smith, (S. C.) Trumbull, Vining, Wadsworth, Wynkoop. 29.

NOES.

Messrs. Bland, Coles, Contee, Floyd, Foster, Gilman, Goodhue, Grout, Hathorn, Heister, Jackson, Matthews, Parker, Partridge, Ransfeller, Schureman, Seney, Sylvester, Sinnickson, Smith, (M.) Stone, Sumpter, Thatcher, Tucker, White. 25.

Majority for reconsidering 4.

On the question for receding from the disagreement to the amendment of the Senate, and to agree thereto with their proposed amendment—The ayes and noes being called, are as follow:

AYES.

Messrs. Ames, Baldwin, Benson, Boudinot, Brown, Burke, Cadwallader, Carroll, Clymer, Fitzsimons, Gale, Gerry, Griffin, Hartley, Huntington, Lorraine, Lee, Livermore, Madison, Moore, Muhlenberg, Scott, Sherman, Smith, (S. C.) Trumbull, Vining, Wadsworth, Wynkoop. 28.

NOES. Messrs. Bland, Coles, Contee, Floyd, Foster, Gilman, Goodhue, Grout, Hathorn, Heister, Jackson, Matthews, Page, Parker, Partridge, Seney, Schureman, Sylvester, Sinnickson, Smith, (M.) Stone, Sumpter, Ransfeller, Thatcher, Tucker, White. 26.

This motion being determined in the affirmative save the bill. In Committee of the whole on the bill for establishing judicial courts.

Mr. BOUDINOT in the chair.

The committee proceeded in the discussion as far as the 16th section, they then rose, and the House adjourned.

EUROPEAN ACCOUNTS, BY THE LAST ARRIVALS.

PARIS, JUNE 29. The people have at last carried their point. The commotions were mentioned in our last; the dread of what might follow the provinces, the patriotic conduct of the soldiers, and above all, the calm determined firmness of the Commons, have overruled all the arbitrary plans concerted at Marli, the intrigues of the Nobles, and the insidious manoeuvres of the Hierarchy. The minority of the Nobles, after exerting their last efforts and entering a most spirited protest, signed by 66 Members, united at length with the National Assembly on Thursday, to the number of 48, were followed by others on the succeeding days. A great body of the Clergy had already joined, but nearly an equal number still persisted, headed by the Archbishop of Paris, and the Cardinal de la Rochefoucault, Archbishop of Rouen. A letter from the King, however, put an end to this perseverance, and the remainder of the Clergy, as well as the Nobles, acceded to the union on Saturday afternoon. The instant this great event took place an immense multitude of persons of all ranks, many even of the most respectable condition, who had constantly surrounded the Hall, and all its avenues for several days, to protect their Representatives, flocked to the Palace, and filling the courts, terrace, &c. made the air resound with their acclamations. The King and Queen appeared in a balcony, where they remained a quarter of an hour to receive the blessings and applauses of their subjects. His Majesty melted into tears at the sight, and seemed to feel, in all its force, the joy, the comfort, the glory of being beloved. Under such happy auspices, there is little fear of every thing doing well, more especially as even the instructions of the Nobility are decidedly in favor of a new Constitution, previous to their granting pecuniary aid; the voting by a plurality of the whole and not by orders, seems to be the natural consequence of the great victory of the Commons; it is supposed
