SMITH IS A SCHEMER.

A Carbon Delegate Becomes a Power in the Chair.

Yesterday Marked the First Lively Session.

Earnest Discussions and Organizations of Counties.

Light is Thrown on Very Dark Irrigation Laws.

SMITH THE SCHEMER.

The average man of the world has noticed the expression of mingled surprise, disappointment, appalling astonishment and deep injury which stamps the face of a misguided manipulator of the delusive pastboards when he mistakes a heart for a diamond and loses his all on a bob-tail flush. Well, that was the appearance of about half the constitution framers late yesterday afternoon when they finally perceived that Smith of Carbon, as chairman of the committee of the whole convention, had, in deciding a question on a close standing vote, made an unwarranted ruling, somewhat favoring the side on which he had arrayed himself. This latter statement is not made with malice, and none of the delegates accuse Mr. Smith of willful wrongdoing, but that the mistake occurred, and that there was a rather stormy scene in consequence is certain.

The most spirited debate of the young session led to the crisis. It was all about county division, and there were some fine arguments on either side of the valuation question. Since the panic no one seems to remember whether the notable vote was on a motion to make the valuation minimum $2,500,000 instead of $2,000,000 as stated in the proposition, or a suggested stipulation in effect that a division should not be made unless agreeable to the inhabitants of the section setting up in business on its own hook. It was probably on the latter, but this is not material as no result was reached.

The first vote, was nineteen affirmative and eighteen negative, and the voters were chuckling when Burdick of Carbon called for the vote of Ferris, one of his colleagues. The chair ruled that all should go on record, and in the face of mild objections ordered another vote. This time there was a tie, and the presiding officer, with startling suddenness, announced that the motion to amend was lost.

Half a dozen members were on their feet in an instant. Campbell insisted that Riner should vote, and some one called for the vote of someone else. Teschemacher said that if two votes were permissible on the same question he could see no possible objection to a third. Irvine rose to a point of order, and Conway stood aghast at so much confusion. Palmer made a claim that the vote had been miscounted. The chair remained placid. He was worried, but managed to conceal it.

Potter, who does not talk much, but who relieves his mind when he feels in the mood, now charged into the arena and read the not act to Smith, who, by the way, isn't half so confiding as he looks. Potter declared, in excited tones, that he did not propose to be "coughed down" by a chairman who had made a partial decision. Disinterested rulings only would be tolerated in the convention. He respectfully appealed from the decision of the chair, and insisted on the question without delay.

"Long John" of Laramie mildly moved that the committee rise. Ignored. The appeal was sustained, Riner's motion renewed and carried and amid much noise an adjournment until this morning voted.

The melee, like a village fire will be discussed for weeks.

On Campbell's motion to place the new county valuation at $2,500,000 there were numerous most excellent and earnest addresses.

Harvey of Converse twice appealed to the convention to make the figure $2,000,000. He urged that the development of the country would be retarded by restrictive legislation and plaintively declared that few could appreciate the hardships of communities isolated from county seats. Converse county was doing nicely on about $2,000,000.

Campbell had entrenched himself for the assaults of the low valuation advocates. He cited Sheridan county which had impoverished Johnson and was itself a weakling without court house, jail or public improvements, warrants worthless and too poor to afford a session of the district court. Converse, he said, was a crude county and had not sufficient cash or credit to build a few necessary bridges.

Coffeen came to the defense of Sheridan gallantly. He had lately disposed of warrants at 95 cents. The county had a good brick jail with steel cells, but had practically no use for the prison as not a serious crime had yet been committed there. True there had been a fatal shooting at Dayton, but he and many others believed it a case of self defense and no bad had taken place. When he left home the jail was vacant. Sheridan was prosperous and would become one of the wealthiest subdivisions of the state. The more counties the better. Their organization would advance the country. Two small, compact counties could be more easily maintained than a large one in which the county seat was distant from a populous section.

Hay of Laramie favored $2,000,000. So also did his colleague Morgan.

Frank of Crook gave it as his best judgment that $2,500,000 should be the limit, and leave $3,000,000 in the original.

Elliot of Johnson told how he came before the legislature last year with a plea that Johnson be left in toto. In had simply been left and the result was a powerful argument against a valuation of less than $2,500,000. Its condition was really pitiable. Warrants were not marketable. It boasted no improvements. Taxes had reached the limit. In their despair the people had forgotten politics and pressed into service as commissioners business men who were urged to save the county from bankruptcy. Sheridan was given a good start, the portion taken from Johnson containing much property and many improvements, but it was not a model county. A cold blooded murder had been committed within its borders before organization was perfected. He secured indictment of the killer at Buffalo but the case was ordered to Sheridan by the judge and had never yet been tried. Some time an epidemic of crime would occur in Sheridan as it did in other counties. Then the people would come to a realization of county demands.

IRRIGATION.
A masterly effort was the address of Burritt of Johnson in behalf of the proposition creating a state board of irrigation and taking adjudication of water rights from courts entirely unfamiliar with the matter. His statements were a revelation of facts on this question were a revelation little short of the sensational. In this county seventy-nine adjudications have cost fully $10,000 and the result is a trifling muddle. Large tracts are apportioned a few inches and smaller ones several feet. The courts are irresponsible for the reason that the decisions are made on the exparte statements of interested persons. Many citizens yesterday learned for the first time of the glaring evils of this ridiculous system. In the course of his remarks Burritt read a letter from Engineer Merritt which is printed on another page. Stipulations that the state own all water and that canals and ditches be declared common carriers were referred along with the bill back to the irrigation committee.

NEW PROPOSITIONS.
CHINESE LABOR—Reed of Laramie—Unlawful for anyone to employ Chinese labor on any public work; legislature shall enforce this proposition.

ORDINANCE—Harvey of Converse—Religious liberty is granted all; people disclaim right to public or Indian land; no discrimination in taxation; Indian who severs tribal relations becomes subject to taxation; debts and liabilities of territory are assumed by state; there shall be a system of non sectarian schools.

MUNICIPAL CORPORATIONS.
The report of the committee of the whole on the proposition on municipal corporations came up for discussion by the convention.

A discussion on the residue remaining in a special fund after the object of an assessment had been attained was resumed. The committee of the whole had recommended the adoption of a clause allowing the anticipated excess to be covered into another fund. Potter of Laramie offered an amendment which contemplated legislative regulation.

Baxter of Laramie and Smith of Carbon spoke to the question.

Campbell moved the previous question. Carried.

The vote was on adoption or rejection of the recommendation of the committee of the whole. Adopted by a standing vote.

There was no difference of opinion when the added section on water was submitted. This gives cities villages and towns the right of eminent domain in order that they may acquire water rights from even prior appropriators.

Burritt of Johnson reopened a wide range of discussion by moving to strike out provisions touching disposition of surplus accruing from a special fund. This was carried on a close standing vote.

AN APPEAL.
There was a little excitement at this time. President Brown ruled Mr. Potter out of order when the gentleman from Laramie moved for final consideration of the proposition section by section. Potter protested against this method, holding that it did not give the members an opportunity to oppose to the end an objectionable portion of a proposition, while favoring the proposition in the main. He appealed from the decision of the chair. The chair was sustained.

A STARTER.
The propositions on municipal corporations as synopsized in this and previous issues is now pretty nearly a portion of the constitution for the proposed state of Wyoming. The amended proposition was adopted by a vote of thirty to nine. These were the negatives: Burritt, Casebeer, Coffeen, Jones, Morgan, McCandlish, Palmer, Smith, Grant. All explained that they opposed only the idea of allowing the legislature to direct the disbursement of municipal funds.

Teschemacher moved for a reconsideration. There was a short free-for-all and the motion was defeated by a vote of 21 to 18, and the proposition as amended goes to the revision committee.

A BAD RULE.
Just before adjournment Irvine of Converse gave notice that he would move for an amendment of the rules to allow consideration of propositions section by section on final reading. Potter of Laramie presented a resolution privileging members to demand separate consideration of any section of a proposition.

NO MOORE.
With the knowledge that Moore of Crook would not be in attendance during the session, President Brown filled his place on two committees by naming Myer Frank and DeForrest Richards. This action opened the topic for discussion and it was learned that several absentees were hastening toward the capital.

FOR THE REVISIONS.
The resolution adopting the convention of the United States and the amended chapter on municipal corporations were formally referred to the revision committee.

AMENDE HONORABLE.
President Brown called the attention of the convention that earlier in the day he had misinterpreted the rule on reconsideration to the injury of Coffeen of Sheridan and Teschemacher of Laramie. He apologized.

A NEW OFFICER.
On motion of Baxter of Laramie the office of enrolling and engrossing clerk was created. Mrs. Ollerenshaw of this city was elected by acclamation.

The Horses.
With few exceptions, all the racers are working satisfactorily. Any trainer will tell you, with right hand in the air, that every animal in his string has gone wrong, but you'll see the travelers in question come up when called and fit for any battle. Cootte, the Stokes & Whitehouse filly, is the prettiest horse on the track. She is a perfect picture coming down the stretch at a hot pace, steady as a clock and fighting for her head. Several owners are on a still hunt for gentlemen riders.

No Canada.
There was a good attendance last evening at the meeting of the Union Debating club in the Carroll court room. It was decided after a general talk that Canada would not be annexed this year. Next Thursday the merits of Henry Clay and Daniel Webster as statesmen will be canvassed. The principals are: Clay—John Gates, Walter Houghton; Webster—Will Wolcott and Chas. Powelson.

A Continental Station.
There is fair prospect that the Continental Oil company will in the near future largely increase its plant at this point, making Cheyenne one of its most important supply points. In this event the present tankage of 20,000 gallons will be made 100,000 and steam power adopted. Vice President Jordan visited Agent Russell Wednesday and strongly hinted that the growth of Cheyenne and tributary towns had attracted the favorable attention of the company. Mr. Jordan will be here again in a couple of weeks, when the subject will be further considered.

"Our Kel" and Fred Clary.
The Fair firm of Clary & Collamer was yesterday dissolved, the latter gentleman retiring. Mr. Collamer's half interest in the business was purchased by A. D. Kelley, city treasurer, and hustling business man. The firm will hereafter be known as Clary & Kelley. About the first of the month the new firm will remove from the present quarters on Seventeenth street to those at present occupied by Mr. Kelley on Ferguson street, and formerly occupied by Draper, Organ & Co. The immense salesroom will be thoroughly refitted with a fine stock of goods.

Mr. Collamer has purchased an interest in a firm in Jefferson, Tex., where he at one time lived, and will remove there with his family in about a month. Mr. and Mrs. Collamer have been highly popular with Cheyenne people, and the good wishes of scores will follow them. The Fair has been a great success and there is no good reason why it should not prove a phenomenal institution under its new management.

PERSONAL POINTS.
R. F. Glover is home again.
Ralph Friend left for the ranch yesterday.
John Hunton is down from Fort Laramie.

David Evans, of Rawlins, was in Cheyenne several hours yesterday, returning to Chicago.

Martin Hynes, of Morris, Ill., is here visiting his sons. He is a prominent citizen and politician at his home.

D. C. Craig, the Rawlins attorney, is here, enroute home after a trip to Ireland and glance at the Paris exposition.

W. J. Wilkes, one of the city's popular young men and first sergeant of Company B, returned from Fort Laramie last evening, after an absence of several months.

Electric Bitters.
The remedy is becoming so well known and so popular as to need no special mention. Electric Bitters will cure all diseases of the liver and kidneys, will remove pimples, boils, salt rheum and other obnoxious caused by impure blood.—Will drive malarial from the system and prevent as well as cure all malarial fevers.—For cure of head ache, constipation and indigestion try Electric Bitters—entire satisfaction guaranteed, or money refunded. Price 50 cents and $1.00 per bottle at B. B. David's drug store.

Cholera in Michigan.
Dr. F. D. Larke, of Rogers City, Michigan, says the epidemic of last year in Presque Isle county, in which so many persons lost their lives, was cholera instead of cholera as first reported. He used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and says it succeeded, where all other remedies failed. Not a single case was lost in which it was used. This Remedy is the most reliable and the most successful medicine known for colic, cholera morbus, dysentery, diarrhoea and bloody flux. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by B. B. David, druggist.

A bulletin issued by Superintendent Barr yesterday appoints L. B. Parsons, now dispatcher at Green River, trainmaster here vice W. E. Green, promoted and transferred. It is understood that he will succeed Mr. Rapelje as superintendent of the Idaho division with headquarters at Pocatello.

Superintendent Ressiguie and Assistant Touhy of the Nebraska division arrived from the east in their special cars yesterday. The visit at this time is quite significant. (Other appointments will be announced in a few days. There is to be a change in business all around.
