Gossip Little Paragraphs Picked Up Throughout the City.

Catholic prayer books at Cheyenne News Stand, opposite postoffice.

A daughter was born to the wife of J. F. Jenkins Wednesday night.

Fremont county's dashing delegate was yesterday christened Deronda A. Preston.

See Dr. Birney, the specialist, about your nose and throat trouble. Room 1, Hotel Normandy.

L. F. Wells, manager for Contractor Keeffe has been called to Chicago on account of the illness of his mother.

Rev. D. L. Rader, Methodist missionary for Wyoming leaves for Johnson and Sheridan counties next week.

Mr. Elliott of Johnson was chairman of the committee of the whole convention yesterday and made the members work.

Sheriff Martin has returned from the Horse Shoe country where he conducted the appraisement of the Bob Walker ranch.

In the convention last evening Mr. Morgan said that he hoped to sometime be a member of the Wyoming legislative assembly.

The pipe to be used in the extension of the House street water main to the new shops reached the city yesterday. Work will be commenced at once.

The Chicago expert who testified in the Patterson case has instituted suit against the county for $150. His original bill was $600 and was reduced to $150.

Benjamin F. Barney, known around town as "Uncle Barney," died at the county hospital yesterday. He was 80 years of age and a Cheyenne old timer.

Dr. Birney, the specialist, treats the nose, throat, eye and ear only, and in these he is thorough. The doctor makes no charges for consultation. Room 1, Hotel Normandy.

The convention would become a very peaceable body if the session continued a couple of weeks longer. Coffeen yesterday urged the adoption of two amendments offered by Potter.

When Sidney Dillon was in Cheyenne recently he was interviewed by Mr. Coffeen of Sheridan, who urged upon the railway magnate the necessity of extending the Cheyenne & Northern.

The Womans' Christian Temperance Union will hold their annual meeting Friday at 3 p. m. in the Baptist church. Officers will be elected for the ensuing year. All the members are requested to be present.

FINISHING IN A RUSH.

The Convention Working Hard at the Windup.

Educational Provisions Liberal—Use of the Public Lands.

Cheyenne the Capitol and Laramie University Town.

Elections and Qualification Required of Officers.

The Constitution to be Submitted Next November.

EDUCATION.
Here is a synopsis of the educational chapter as recommended for adoption by the committee of the whole convention:

Legislation shall provide for the establishment and maintenance of a complete and uniform system of public instruction, embracing free elementary schools of every needed kind and grade, a university with technical and professional departments as the public good may require and such additional institutions for normal institutions as may be necessary. Revenue for the support of these institutions is to be derived from such a tax as may be levied by the legislature and the sale of school lands as prescribed by law. No school funds shall be loaned except in the form of bonds. School income shall be applied exclusively to the support of the public school system and shall be equitably distributed on a base of pupil enumeration. No portion of any public school fund shall ever be diverted to the assistance or support of any private school or any school, academy, seminary or other institution of learning controlled by any church or sectarian organization or religious denomination. The legislature may make any further provisions for the education of the youth of the state between the age of six and twenty-one years free of charge and the assembly shall stipulate that every child of sufficient physical and mental ability shall attend a public school during the period between six and eighteen years, for a time equivalent to three years. In no public schools shall there be discriminations on account of sex, race or color. Neither the legislature nor the superintendent of public instruction shall prescribe text books for public schools. Attendance upon any school religious exercises shall not be required, nor shall any sectarian tenets or doctrines be taught or favored in any educational institution established by this constitution. The general supervision of public schools shall be entrusted to the state superintendent of public instruction, whose duties and powers will be prescribed by law.

The location of the territorial university may be changed only by a popular vote of the people. University tax should be fixed by the legislature from time to time and the money shall be used only for the benefit of the institution. Lands may be leased but not sold except upon approval of congress and then in tracts not exceeding 640 acres to a single purchaser. Privileges of the university shall be equally open to students of both sexes, irrespective of race or color. Under the direction of the legislature a board of seven members shall manage the university and its property. They shall not be salaried, but may be reimbursed actual expenses incurred in discharge of duty.

Such charitable, reformatory and penal institutions as the claims of humanity and public good may demand shall exist. They shall be under the control of a state board of charities and reforms, to be appointed by the executive. No pay, but expenses allowed. Their powers and duties shall be prescribed by law.

It shall be the duty of the legislature to protect and promote public health and morals by wise measures for the encouragement of temperance and virtue.

All public buildings belonging to the territory shall become the property of the state and shall be given into the care of the proper boards of officers.

PUBLIC LANDS.
After earnest discussion Coffeen's amendment forbidding the sale of grant lands for fifteen years was lost. Such lands shall not be disposed of for less than $10 an acre. The adoption of Clark's resolution gives the occupant the preference right of purchase, when the procedure is to have the bare land appraised and then sold at auction in parcels not greater than 160 acres each. Any land granted to the state by the general government may be accepted by the legislature for the people.

Proceeds from the sale and rental of grant lands shall be applied to the purposes specified in the donation.

The governor, superintendent of public instruction and state secretary will constitute a public land board.

Sale, disposal, lease and care of public lands shall be regulated by the legislature. Misuse of funds shall be punishable according to law.

Special privileges except preference right to buy to the injury of the state shall not be granted occupants of grant lands by the legislature.

Residue in a school fund shall be diverted to no other purpose.

PUBLIC BUILDINGS.
Mr. Potter's amendment: For ten years and until changed by a vote of the people public buildings shall be located in this wise: Cheyenne, as the seat of government, the capitol; Laramie, the university; Rawlins, the penitentiary; Evans-ton, the asylum. The legislature may fix the location of the poor farm, now at Lander and the deaf and dumb institution in this city, but the assembly cannot change the capitol, university city or insane asylum town.

The convention endorsed the section, but referred it back to the proper committee for proper arrangement.

COAL MINES.
The duties of the inspector of coal mines, who is to serve two years, shall be fixed by law and his salary prescribed. The governor shall appoint to the office of inspector a competent person.

The legislature must provide that all mines be mapped and there shall be proper escapements, healthful ventilation and drainage and that laws be enacted to encourage development of mines.

No boy under 14 or girl or woman shall be employed in a mine except in a clerical position. There was not a little debate on this question, several amendments being offered but rejected after speeches by Russell and Coffeen.

The legislature may establish a school of mines.

A person having practical and theoretical knowledge shall be made state geologist by the governor. His term of office is to be six years. Fox of Albany moved to dispense with this office. He urged economy. Hay and Coffeen said a geologist was an absolute necessity, that one report was worth ten years salary as an advertisement. The Fox motion was lost.

ELECTIONS AND QUALIFICATIONS.
The assembly shall legislate to guarantee purity of the ballot. It is to provide for contests. No person except an elector shall assume a civic or military office in the state.

Office holders except assemblymen and members of boards shall serve until relieved by their successors. The legislature may suspend an officer pending impeachment or other prosecution proceedings.

No members of congress or other United States officer shall hold a remunerative state office.

Elections shall be held the Tuesday following the first Monday of every year. New officers are to be seated the first Monday in January.

Potter moved to strike out a clause of the oath of office in which the subscriber deposed in effect that he had bought no votes, or paid for a nomination. He said that a man who would purchase votes would readily take the oath.

Morgan pleaded for purity of the ballot and discontinuance of boodle campaigns.

Hay said the oath was an insult to persons elected honestly. Much had been said about corrupt legislatures, but the speaker had yet to hear of the direct sale or purchase of an assemblyman vote or influence.

Sutherland was mild this time and humorous in his manner. It was useless to attempt to smooth over the dishonesty of lawmakers and if Mr. Hay would come to Sherman on election day he would open the gentleman's eyes. Hay responded that he only spoke of legislators.

Hoyt urged the adoption of the rigid oath.

The Potter amendment failed and they who engage in the vote traffic must be careful. An officer accepting in any manner a bribe may be deposed and tried for perjury.

By a vote of 11 to 10 this civil service section was stricken from the election bill. "The legislature shall make provision in conformity with this constitution for ascertaining the qualifications of those desiring places or employment in the public service."

SCHEDULE.
All writs, etc., issued against territory, shall be against the state. Rights of individuals and incorporations shall not be impaired by the change in government.

Territorial laws not repugnant to the constitution shall remain in force until they expire by limitation or are repealed or amended by the legislature.

All fines, penalties, forfeitures, escheats accruing to the territory shall accrue to the state. Recognizances, bonds, etc., shall remain valid. Criminal prosecutions pending may be continued. Territorial officers will continue to officiate until relieved.

The constitution is to be submitted at an election the first Tuesday in November of this year. The operative balloting laws will govern.

Mr. Teschemacher raised the question of postponement of the ratification and cited the New Mexican procedure which is to await the action of congress. He said a special election would make extra expense and that perhaps only a small vote would be polled, whereas at a regular contest nearly everyone would participate.

Mr. Hay thought the New Mexican course dangerous. Congress might assume that fifty-five men framed the constitution and that the instrument perhaps might not be acceptable to the people.

If we call on congress this winter, remarked Mr. Clark, it would be in good form to send down our card. Let the constitution be forwarded along with the petition for an enabling act.

Mr. Baxter briefly urged immediate submission of the constitution.

President Brown warmly favored early action.

Mr. Teschemacher withdrew his motion and the constitution will be submitted the first Tuesday of November.

Ballots shall read "yes" or "no" or "for" or "against" the constitution.

The constitution shall take effect and be in force immediately upon admission of the territory.

The governor, in his absence the secretary and in the absence of both the president of the constitutional convention shall issue a proclamation calling for the election of state officers not less than forty days after proclaiming and not more than ninety days after the admission of Wyoming. The board of county commissioners shall set the election machinery in relay.

vention are made a canvassing board. All officers shall qualify within thirty days after their election. The governor shall convene, by proclamation, the legislature within sixty days after calling upon the members elect to convene.

Within ten days after convening the legislature shall elect, in joint session, two United States senators.

The legislature shall enact all laws necessary to carry into effect the provisions of the constitution.

County and precinct officers shall be allowed to serve out their terms.

The file on schedule was referred back to the committee with the request that it frame a section providing for the first election of county officers.

TO THE SUPREME COURT.
Mr. Reed's proposition in effect that parties to a suit before a board of arbitration shall have the right of appeal directly to the supreme court was recommended for adoption as part of the constitution.

President Brown will this morning appoint a committee of ten to prepare an address to the people.

SALARIES.
Two Salary Lists from a Convention Committee.

The constitutional convention committee on salaries split when it came to making figures and two reports were presented and sent to the printer late yesterday afternoon. Here is a resume of each report:

Majority—Justices of the peace and constables in precincts having a population of less than 1,500 and court commissioners, boards of arbitration and notaries public receive fees alone but all other officers must cover fees into the treasury. In counties having valuation of less than $2,000,000 sheriff's salary shall not exceed $1,500; clerk, $1,200; treasurer $1,000; assessor, $500; superintendent of schools, $300. In counties having valuation between $2,000,000 and $5,000,000, sheriff not more than $2,000; clerk, $1,800; treasurer, $1,500; assessor, $750; superintendent of schools, $500. In counties having over $5,000,000 valuation the sheriff's salary shall not exceed $3,000; clerk, $2,500; treasurer, $2,500; assessor, $1,500; superintendent of schools, $1,000. County boards may employ deputies who shall in no case receive more than $1,500 yearly.

Minority—Governor, not less than 4,000 nor more than $6,000; secretary, $2,400 to $3,600; auditor, $2,400 to 3,600; treasurer, $2,000 to $3,000; superintendent of public instruction, $2,000 to $2,500; state examiner, $2,000 to $3,000 and ten cents mileage; judges of the supreme court $3,000 to $5,000; district judges, $3,000 to $4,000.

Until provided by the assembly state officers and judges are to receive the minimum amounts here mentioned.

County officers are to be salaried as prescribed by the legislature, but none shall be paid more than $3,000 per annum. The general assembly is to provide for the pay of precinct, city, town and school officers.

County officers must cover all fees into the treasury.

A Banquet to the Delegates.
At last evening's session of the convention Mr. Campbell on behalf of the Laramie county delegation, invited the members of the convention to attend a dinner at the club to-morrow evening. Judge Brown was requested to preside at the banquet.

The Good Water.
The work of connecting the new pipe line from the underground source and the city main at the well near the Mahalutah reservoir commenced yesterday and was in all probability completed about 7 o'clock this morning. The care taken in cutting the metal pipe perfectly delayed the work several hours.

Engineer Miller says the city pipes will be drained and that the new brand of water will be furnished consumers not later than to-morrow.

The Surveyor General.
(Bonanza Rustler.)
In a private note to the Rustler Surveyor General Richards expresses himself, as highly pleased with his reception in Cheyenne, both by the press and people. Mr. Richards says he and his family are already mourning the loss of the good water, trout and fine vegetables of his mountain home.

Mrs. McLaughlin's Injuries.
Dr. Marston returned last evening from Horse Creek, where he was called to attend Mrs. A. McLaughlin, injured in a runaway Wednesday. The lady sustained a fracture of the collar bone and numerous severe bruises and will be confined to her home for some time. The fright of a team at the sight of a Cheyenne & Northern train caused the accident.

Unioning Club.
At a regular session of the Union Debating club at the Carroll court room last evening there was a miscellaneous discussion on a resolution in effect that "the Salvation Army is injurious to the harmony of the city." The question was decided in the affirmative. There was a good attendance of visitors. The subject for next Thursday's debate is: Resolved, That the machinery which does the world's labor is not labor saving. Affirmative—Roy Baxter, Chas. Gape, Negative—W. E. Yeager, W. R. Houghton.

Strayed or Stolen.
From the city ditch, two brown mules branded 18 on left shoulder and also one mouse colored mare mule and one sorrel horse mule, no brand. Anyone returning them to Johnston's grocery will be rewarded.
