

FROM: The British and Irish Governments

TO: Participating Political Parties

DATE: 17 November 1997

POSTPONEMENT OF STRAND THREE LIAISON MEETING

The British and Irish Governments have decided to postpone tomorrow's Strand three Liaison meeting. They believe it will be most effective to take receipt of the parties' views during the current round of bilateral consultations. This will also allow those bilaterals to continue without interruption.

The Governments will consult with the parties at the Business Committee on Wednesday on a convenient date on which to hold the next meeting.

FROM: The British and Irish Governments

TO: Participating Political Parties

DATE: 17 November 1997

POSTPONEMENT OF STRAND THREE LIAISON MEETING

The British and Irish Governments have decided to postpone tomorrow's Strand three Liaison meeting. They believe it will be most effective to take receipt of the parties' views during the current round of bilateral consultations. This will also allow those bilaterals to continue without interruption.

The Governments will consult with the parties at the Business Committee on Wednesday on a convenient date on which to hold the next meeting.