File Note

TALKS, 2 JULY

1. Better as the day went on.
2. Slow progress at first, on consideration of two new government amendments on rules 15 and 30 (attached): some long addresses, and sharp exchanges between Mr Mallon and Mr McCartney, on whether the Union was on the table. Comments and further amendments sought on 15 and 30.
3. More constructive and better-humoured approach in the last

A1. Possible alternative to paragraph 15

15. The negotiations in the various formats, committees and sub-committees, will be on the basis of a comprehensive agenda for the negotiations as a whole, adopted by agreement in the opening plenary. Without prejudice to any participant's negotiating position, that agenda will be such as to enable each participant to raise any significant issue of concern to them and to receive a fair hearing for those concerns without their ability to do so being subject to the veto of any other party in the negotiations. Participants may, by agreement, develop or refine the comprehensive agenda.

A2. Possible alternative to paragraph 30

30. The British Government, as Chairman of Strand One, will keep the Irish Government informed through liaison arrangements agreed between the two Governments and will report the progress which Strand One participants agree has been made.
