

BROADCASTING

The Taoiseach and the Prime Minister learned with satisfaction of the decisive progress made, on the basis of agreement at technical and political levels, towards improving and extending the reception of the various Irish television services in Northern Ireland, without adverse effects on the reception of the BBC and UTV. They asked that current work on an Implementation Agreement be taken forward to a conclusion and looked forward to viewers in Northern Ireland benefiting as soon as possible from the resulting enlargement of their range of choice.